VOL. VIII.

Leadership Week Proves Success

MANY STATES AND STAKES ARE REPRESENTED DURING WEEK.

At the last day of Leadership Week, students and patrons rejoice conjointly over the success of the week. Today marks the end of the first Leadership Week ever conducted at the Brigham Young University. During this week representatives from forty-eight states and from the District of Columbia, and from eight different states were present.

The week's attendance is approximately about four thousand visitors, and the majority of these visitors are church officers.

Most of the patrons seemed very happy and enthusiastic over the suggestions they have gained to take home and put into practice in their respective fields.

A most varied program has been presented in which the professors of the university have been most cooperative.

In addition to the regular leadership activities the Utah Poultry Producers' Association, the commercial and the annual meeting of the San Juan Farm Bureau have also been going on.

All phases of the leadership work have been conducted in a spirit of cooperation toward the end of the week, but recreational work, co-operation and leadership training have been the main features of the Leadership Week program.

The largest and most important meeting has been the Farm Bureau state as a whole that has been held.

The nature of the meetings is to stimulate the members to consider national and state farm problems. Several Young Farmers, Elder Joseph F. Smith, Dr. Walter Hodder, being a speaker, and the San Juan Farm Bureau have been on stage.

Many distinguished visitors have attended the various camps and have added to the inspiring programs, which have been held for the visitors every afternoon.

Superintendent of Schools, Mr. George E. McAllister, and State Young Farmers' Leader, Elder Joseph F. Smith, and Walter Hodder being a speaker, and the San Juan Farm Bureau have been on stage.

All phases of the leadership work have been conducted in a spirit of cooperation toward the end of the week, but recreational work, co-operation and leadership training have been the main features of the Leadership Week program.

The closing number, "Orpheus and Eurydice," by Gluck, "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar, played by the orchestra, and "The Star-Spangled Banner" by the organ, were as great a success as the previous programs.

Mr. Roberton, director of the orchestra, has succeeded in assembling at the Brigham Young University organization which is the best of the best in the west. Symphony orchestra, the B. Y. U. are indeed fortunate in having such an organization. The 150 members of the orchestra and the 150 members of the orchestra are always of the highest quality. The orchestra is the largest in the large cities of America for two to three dollars admission.

The next feature of importance and one which should be of great interest to the students and patrons of the institution following leadership week is the Occidental debate team coming to the Brigham Young University on February 28th. The question is a question of national interest.

"Resolved, that a substituted for a trial of the Occidental team."

The B. Y. U. team consisting of Gordon Tullifer, Ray Peterson, very experienced debaters, have had much experience in forensic debate, and are well prepared against the Occidental affirmative team.

Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock the debate will be held.

Their interest and enthusiasm has been aroused and the team is working hard to gain the best possible cases of the question which consists of much research work and study, in order to obtain the best results.
